VOLUME CIX.--NO. 113. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, MAY 25, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional indorsement of each of its several ingredients—worth more than any number of ordinary non-professional testimonials. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

CHOKED HIS WIFE TO DEATH.

Ernest Terwilger, of Newark, Ohio, on Saturday night slew his eight-year-old wife and their unborn child by choking the mother to death during a quarrel. Last night he confessed the homicide, and is under special guard in the city prison because many infuriated citizens set up a cry for summary vengeance about the prison when the crime became known.

The Terwilgers were married about a year ago, the bride being popular in her set of society on account of her beauty and social qualities. Terwilger was jealous of his wife and domestic discord caused a separation.

Recently the pair became reconciled and went to live at the home of Charles Nutter. Yesterday morning one of the Nutters went to call the Terwilgers for breakfast. Getting no response, the door was forced, Mrs. Terwilger was found dead on the bed. Her tongue protruded from her blackened face and there were finger marks on her throat.

As Terwilger was gone, a search was begun for him. No sooner had he been arrested than he admitted the double crime. He said he had been out of work for some time and that he had taken several drinks with some friends Saturday afternoon.

Returning home in the evening, he said his wife asked him for money to buy baby clothes. He told her he had no money for her, and the quarrel waxed warm. Old troubles were revived, and recriminations aroused the husband's anger to such an uncontrollable stage that he seized his wife by the throat, threw her over the edge of the bed, and choked her till she ceased to struggle.

With his brain still muddled with liquor, Terwilger, thinking he had only choked the woman into submission, so he says, left the house, in order not to renew the quarrel. He was heard to leave the house shortly before midnight, but nothing was thought of this action at the time, as the quarrel had been more wordy than vociferous.

As soon as the details of the crime became known to the many friends of Mrs. Terwilger, a great crowd gathered around the jail and demanded the prisoner. When special guards were placed on duty the crowd finally melted away, and it is thought no attempt to storm the prison will be made.

THREW WOMAN OUT.

Shortly after Saturday midnight, piercing shrieks from a woman drew to the windows many nightgowned residents on fashionable Mount Royal avenue, Baltimore. Their attention was attracted to No. 1510, when those who reached the windows in time saw a lively scrap and finally saw one woman throw another out.

The ejected one was Mrs. Wilson L. Camden, wife of a well-known lawyer of Baltimore, who is a nephew of the late Senator Camden, of West Virginia. The Camdens live at 1610 Mount Royal avenue, just a block above.

The other woman in the case was Dr. Ollie J. Prescott, a woman physician of Baltimore.

While the fight was going on, Mr. Camden was walking up and down in front of the house. A patrolman, hearing the scream, hurried up and arrested Mr. and Mrs. Camden, the former on the charge of disturbing the peace and the latter on the charge of assaulting Dr. Prescott.

Both spent the night in the station-house. At the hearing Saturday morning, Justice Tyson dismissed the charge against Mrs. Camden, because of extenuating circumstances, and fined Mr. Camden $25 and costs.

Mr. John Rihard Vining, Ia., says, "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

HEN HATCHES SNAKES.

Peter Wise, living near Omega, Ind., had the surprise of his life when he pulled a sitting hen off the nest that she had made in the edge of a straw stack. He had noticed her sitting there for sometime and began to suspect that she was sitting on a door knob or a nest of spoiled eggs. When he lifted her up, instead of a brood of chickens or a batch of spoiled eggs, there was a bunch of snakes, little sleek black fellows, each about seven inches long and wriggling furiously. Mr. Wise promptly dispatched the snakes, 11 in number, and the hen was disposed of by having her neck wrung. Mr. Wise said that he had no use for a hen that could not tell the difference between a snake's egg and her own product.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are small, safe sure and gentle little pills. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

FOUND FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

James Graham, a contractor of Glenfield, a suburb of Pittsburg, Pa., on Saturday while moving a house, dug up an old lard can which contained English gold coin of the value of $5,000. The house had belonged to Mary Ann Kilch, an English woman, who came to this country before the civil war and brought the gold with her. She was suspicious of banks, and buried it. Two months ago Miss Kilch, who lived with her younger sister, Libby Kilch, was stricken with paralysis. She was unable to speak or write, and continued in that condition until she died. Many times the stricken woman tried to tell her secret, but could not. The entire amount was turned over to the sister, Libby Kilch.

Choice PEARL HOMILY and BREAK PASTORITE for sale at J. C. MILBURN

NEW MACKEREL.—Nos. 1, 2, 3 Mackerel, received today, January 3, by J. C. MILBURN.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 25, 1908

YESTERDAY was the forty-seventh anniversary of the occupation of Alexandria by the federal troops, the killing of Col. E. E. Ellsworth, of the New York Fire Zouaves at the Marshall House, as well as of James T. Jackson, the proprietor of that hotel. As has been the custom for many years, the members of R. E. Lee Camp, of Confederate Veterans, will observe the occasion today (the 24th having come on Sunday) by a parade, together with suitable services at the monument at the intersection of Prince and Washington streets and at the mound in Christ Church yard. The tooth of time has been gradually thinning the ranks of the Alexandrians who assembled at Prince and Washington streets early on the morning of May 24, 1861. A number of the band laid down their lives on their country's altar. Of the remnant but comparatively few are left. Those who still survive, whose locks have been whitened by the snows of many winters, still keep up the recollections of by-gone years when they followed the fortunes of the Southern Confederacy, justly proud of the part they took in that memorable struggle. M. D. Corse Camp, Sons of Veterans, vie with their seniors today in embalming the memories of the great struggle to perpetuate principles vouchsafed by the framers of the republic, but which were set at naught by the results of the great civil war.

CONGRESS is now near the end of its existence and it will be remembered as "a do-nothing Congress." When the "do everything" president at the other end of the avenue hangs up the big stick a few days hence, and in the Capitol Speaker Cannon lays down the gavel, it will be seen that of legislative problems presented to the present Congress for solution those which remain unanswered so far outnumber the actual "results" that they are going to afford capital material for the opposition in the approaching campaign. There were more important questions presented and discussed, on which the public generally, or sections or classes, demanded action, than ever before in history. A majority of these were of President Roosevelt's making, and listed among his "policies." Comparatively the enactments were few. On the other hand, the aggregate of the appropriations was great, and when the final figures are obtainable it is not doubted that they will exceed those of any previous session in times of peace or war.

THE campaign publicity bill with representative restriction in the south amendments, which was passed by the House Friday, was laid before the Senate Saturday. Without discussion the bill was referred to committee on privileges and elections, where it will remain. Such a bill, it is not believed, will never become a law. Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, while in Norfolk Saturday, denounced the Crumpacker amendment and declared that if the Senate passes it he does not see how the president can consistently sign in. He also said:

It is a bad bill. If it passes the Senate and becomes a law by the president's signature, I believe it will defeat the nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency. That measure will array the solid south against Mr. Taft's nomination then. However, I can't see how Mr. Roosevelt can approve the measure. The president has taken a stand for pure elections. His position is known country-wide on that, and I do not believe he would sign such a bill were it put up to him. It would be suicidal.

MOST people will agree with General Horatio C. King, who a few days ago characterized some of the aims of the advocates of peace at the Lake Mohonk Conference as "pipe dreams." That the world is not now nor has it ever been prepared for an era of universal peace must be apparent. While the dogs of war are, by the greatest exertions of diplomacy, kept apart, they are ever ready to leap at each other's throats. The larger mastifs are with difficulty kept on their premises, but the spaniels are always going beyond their bounds and causing trouble, such as is now seen in Korea, Afghanistan, Persia, India, Morocco and other places. Poets have sung of an era of universal serenity and prophets have sighed for the same, but the watchman is as impotent to "tell us of the night" as he was centuries before the dawn of the Christian era.

IT is not a spectacle to be proud of—Congress gagging at anti-injunction and subsidy legislation and the president threatening a veto of the $32,000,000 public building bill unless the power of the courts shall be restricted and subsidy mongers duly provided for. The public interest would be really subserved if Congress should stick to its rightful position and the president should retort with his rightful veto.

THIS appears to be a may Congress—it may adjourn in May or it may not.

THE result of the elections for the Paris Municipal Council—a body which, it must be understood, is elected not only on municipal grounds, but very largely on the political opinions of the candidates—has resulted in a crushing defeat for the socialists. People of all nations are getting tired of these socialists who are now trying to make a lodgment in this country.

APPROXIMATELY $5,000,000 is the estimate of the cost of the coal consumed by the Atlantic battleship fleet when it will have finished its cruise around the world. And what good has been accomplished by this big expenditure of money?

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.

Adjournment talk, which has been hovering around Wednesday, received another setback this morning, when the sergeant-at-arms of the House rushed to the telegraph office, where he sent peremptory orders to every republican member to return at once. While it hasn't been divulged why the absent members, now engaged in hard political campaigning, should be recalled at this time, it is taken to mean that there will be some effort made to pass a currency bill before the end of the session. Mr. Vreeland, author of one of the two currency bills which have any chance at all admitted this morning that an attempt will be made to pass some financial measure. It is understood that the Vreeland bill will have to be amended before it will be acceptable to the Senate. For the purpose of amending the bill, it is believed, the orders have been sent to all republicans to return.

With the republican leaders in the Senate blaming Speaker Cannon for the failure of emergency currency legislation at this session, the speaker has taken a prominent hand in the game. Some say he has drawn a royal flush. He has served notice that the Senate ought not to think of adjourning for a day or so, intimating, in his most genial manner, that it might try to agree with the House on some currency legislation. Mr. Cannon does not think it would be quite proper to go into a presidential campaign with the responsibility of the defeat of currency legislation on his shoulders. In the single conference between the House and Senate over the Vreeland-Aldrich bills, the Senate stood firm for a bond-secured circulation, while the House desired a commercial currency. Mr. Cannon professes to believe some compromise might be reached, even hinting of the passage of the Aldrich bill by the House, if nothing else can be secured. Whether any legislation along this line is finally secured or not he will be the winner he figures out. He will have demonstrated that he was the willing worker that kept the others at Washington for the express purpose of enacting remedial legislation. In the closing days of the session the minority filibuster is being put to the most severe test. Scores of democrats could get private bills pushed through the House, if they would abandon the filibuster. Mr. Williams, however, is standing by the ship, and urging the continuation of the filibuster to the end, as a matter of political expediency. Meanwhile the republicans are talking about the installation by next session of a device whereby a roll call may be taken without using up a half hour each time, calling the names of the 391 members. It is proposed to have a push button device, upon which each member could register his vote on any question reducing the the time of each vote to five minutes or less. Impressed by the necessity of adopting some legislation before adjournment to provide an emergency currency and thus prevent the likelihood of another currency famine, such as that which occurred last fall, the leaders of the House and Senate today renewed their efforts to reach a compromise agreement and it is declared that there is a prospect of success. The new proposition which is now under consideration proposes that the emergency currency shall be based on the securities named in the Aldrich bill and on the commercial paper, as described in the Vreeland bill, but with a specific limitation named in the bill as to the amount and character of the latter class of security that may be acceptable. The sergeant-at-arms of the House sent peremptory telegraphic orders this afternoon to every republican member who is out of the city, to return at once. Representative Vreeland admitted that this procedure had been taken in order to pass some currency measure, if possible.

With enough business on the speaker's desk to keep the House on the trot for four days, and Speaker Cannon set on having an emergency currency bill passed at this session, the membership of the House today settled down to stay in Washington all the week. The speaker this afternoon told members who inquired about adjournment that Congress would probably be in session a week or ten days yet. He advised them to act accordingly. In case too great an exodus of republicans takes place, it will be necessary for the speaker to arrest the absentees and this will certainly be done before he will permit the insurgent republicans and filibustering democrats to control the House. There are about twenty republicans absent and Speaker Cannon has wired them to come back.

The House committee on library today ordered a favorable report on the bill which, appropriates $4,000,000 for the purchase of thirty-eight acres of land in this city and $1,000,000 for a monument memorial to Abraham Lincoln. The land is to be used in the extension of the capitol grounds.

There was no violence yesterday.

C., in a building to cost $25,000 and to serve the purpose of the summer associations and the school it is hoped to erect there.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Both branches of Congress devoted Saturday chiefly to action on conference reports, preparatory to adjournment.

A complete agreement on the Military Academy appropriation bill was laid before the Senate and adopted.

The conference report on the public building bill was agreed to, and complete agreement on the sundry civil bill reported, but action was postponed until today.

In the omnibus public buildings bill, most of the important amendments made by the Senate were retained, although in some instances the amounts were reduced.

The Rainey river dam bill was passed over the president's veto.

Mr. Owen addressed the Senate on his resolution proposing a constitutional amendment for election of senators by popular vote. His motion to proceed immediately to its consideration was defeated.

The Senate passed an anti-graft bill that covers employes and agents of United States offices.

No business that would interfere with early adjournment was permitted, and most of the day was consumed in discussion on various subjects, pending the submission of conference reports.

A night session was held, after which adjournment was taken until today.

AIR SHIP COLLAPSE.

In the view of 10,000 spectators a mammoth airship, on its trial trip, ascended 300 feet at Berkeley Cal., on Saturday, burst and dropped to the ground with its crew of sixteen men, all of whom were more or less seriously injured. The airship was the invention and work of J. A. Morrall, who is reported to have spent $40,000 in building it. It was over 400 feet long, 36 feet in diameter and carried five engines, suspended by heavy net work.

[COMMUNICATED.

Several years ago an item in the Gazette's local column suggested that were Hogarth alive he could at times obtain material for a picture at the southwest corner of Cameron and Royal streets, where men of scottish habits at that time gathered. It is said that the rear of the old City Hotel has of late become the rendezvous for such. Most of these individuals cannot, under the Byrd law, obtain liquor, but they send others who can for supplies and drink at pleasure. People who conduct business in the vicinity have, it is claimed, notified the police of this uncomely conduct, but, so far, the nuisance has continued daily, Sundays not excepted.

TROLLEY CARS COLLIDE.

Four persons were instantly killed, at least five others were so badly injured that there is no hope for their recovery, and forty-five more were seriously hurt in a collision between trolley cars on Germantown avenue near Chestnut Hill, a fashionable suburb in the northern section of Philadelphia last night.

Among those dangerously injured was Alexander McKay, aged forty-five years, who has a wooden leg. The artificial member was jammed up into his body, and he cannot live, it is said.

The scene of the collision was on Germantown avenue, between Bells Moore road and Hill Crest avenue, Chestnut Hill.

A trolley car heavily loaded with passengers returning from Chestnut Hill Park at 10:27 p. m. jumped the track crashed into one of a group of cars standing at the bottom of a steep hill at that point. The impact was quickly followed by a crashing of timbers and the cries of passengers crowded on the cars at the foot of the hill.

Passengers on both cars were killed and injured.

The accident occurred in a ravine with high embankments on either side.

Among the many pathetic incidents, was that of a little girl, who was thrown from her seat, and fell under the wheels of the runaway car. The long strands of her hair got caught between the hinges of the seat, and she was thus held half suspended along the side of the running rail until finally she was ground to pieces under the juggernaut wheels.

SUICIDES.

A man, who is believed to be Charles or George Zahn, of 1122 Eighth street northwest, Washington, in full view of several carloads of persons on their way to and from Luna Park, about 6 o'clock last evening, ran from the Virginia shore to the Southern Railroad bridge, raised his hands as in supplication, and jumped into the river. The drowning man struggled desperately while he was being watched by more than 150 passengers on trolley cars, and by passengers on a Southern Railway.

Mary Estelle Cole, seventeen years old, committed suicide yesterday afternoon in Washington. Overwhelmed by the sense of despair she felt in her family being forced to abandon their large residence after the death of her father for a more humble abode, the girl slipped to her room in the house at 1820 Sixth street northwest and drank a quantity of carbolic acid from the effects of which she died. Following her father's death the girl had been forced to give up school and seek employment, and since that time had had little time to herself. About a week ago she had obtained a position.

Lippman Kessler, who shot and killed Miss Nina E. Doane and twice wounded Thomas Faulkner, whom she was to marry in June, in Miss Doane's apartments, at 80 Pineapple street, Brooklyn, on Saturday afternoon, killed himself at 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

PRIEST ATTACKED.

Just after he had finished singing high mass in St. Joseph's Church, at Salisbury, Mo., yesterday, Rev. Joseph F. Lubeley was attacked and stabbed twice by a wealthy parishioner, John Schuette.

His wounds are probably fatal, one blow of the knife striking him in the temple and the other in the throat, narrowly missing the jugular vein. Salisbury is 169 miles west of St. Louis.

Schuette, who has been a devout member of the church, then attacked two members of the congregation who ran to the priest's aid as he sank to the floor at the second blow. The attack occurred at the church door as the pastor was leaving.

The priest received temporary aid, and was placed on the Wabash Express and carried to St. Mary's Infirmary in St. Louis.

The condition of Father J. F. Lubeley was very grave today. Schutte who was arrested today issued a statement accusing the priest of meddling in his affairs and declared "this thing is not over yet." Schutte and Frank Legendre quarreled Saturday and Father Lubeley tried to reconcile them. It is believed that Schutte interpreted some of the priest's remarks during his sermon as a reprimand.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Thaw Still Insane,

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 25.—Harry Thaw is still insane, according to a decision filed by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser in the county clerk's office here today. His mental disorder is so manifest, the justice holds, as to render it unsafe to free him. It is also denied that his commitment to Matteawan by Justice Dowling was unconstitutional, as maintained by the young Pittsburger's counsel.

Though utterly defeated in his attempt to regain his liberty though habeas corpus proceedings, Thaw has at least temporarily gained one point. Justice Morschauser has promised not to recommit him to the Matteawan Asylum for the criminal insane until a plea can be submitted for his transfer to another of the State institutions for the mentally unsound.

Thaw's lawyer, J. G. Graham, called on the prisoner shortly after the interview, but declined to discuss his conversation with the latter.

The hearing relative to a change in Thaw's place of confinement will be held a week from Saturday.

Poisoned Himself.

New York, May 25.—Discouraged by the fact that the money he had saved up for an operation for cancer on himself had to be spent in the hospital expenses of his daughter, ill of meningitis, Julius Katz excused himself at the breakfast table this morning at his home on Eighty-fifth street, went to the kitchen and took poison. He was hurried to the hospital, but died shortly after arriving there. Katz was an expert cloth examiner, and was treasurer of several Jewish societies, and that he had contemplated the suicide was shown by the fact that his book as treasurer had been recently gone over and put in shape. His accounts were shown to be straight.

Narrow Escape of Firemen.

Boston, Mass., May 25.—A score or more firemen narrowly escaped death early today when the roof of the warehouse of P. H. Graham, south Boston, collapsed. Martin J. Lavin may die and six others are said to be at the hospital in a serious condition. Lavin, pinned under a heavy rafter, was slowly roasting to death when Ladderman Gough dashed into the blaze and risked his life to carry Lavin to safety. He was badly burned and was taken to the hospital. When the roof first collapsed it was feared that all the firemen who disappeared were killed, and four ambulances were called. The fire was extinguished after it had caused $10,000 damage.

Plucky Woman.

Detroit, May 25.—Four young toughs attacked Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKay on their farm just outside the city today. McKay was felled with a club and Mrs. McKay was badly beaten, but she secured a revolver from the house and, covering her assailants, marched them three miles to the Hinewood police station. The woman was attired only in a thin gingham dress and her feet were bare, while blood trinkled down her face from a cut in the scalp. But she kept her revolver levelled at the youths for the three miles.

They were taken to the hospital to be identified, if possible, by Baptiste, but he refused to say whether they were the men.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, May 25.

SENATE.

In order to kill time in the Senate today the journal was again read in full, consuming ninety-five minutes in the operation.

Senator Beveridge, who has been roundly hazed during the past few days while seeking to secure the passage of his bill regulating the liquor traffic and regulate the practice of medicine in Alaska and Hawaii, was on hand early. He repeatedly asked that the reading of the journal be suspended, but each time Kean objected, saying it was extremely important that the journal be read in full.

The journal being approved, routine morning business was taken up.

Senator Aldrich insisted that the conference report on the sundry civil bill be read in full, all items being explained and not mentioned by number. In this way he expects to kill about two hours time.

The Senate this afternoon adopted the conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill, after considerable debate.

HOUSE.

By the House agreeing today to the conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill, that measure carrying $112,000,000 appropriations, needs only the president's signature to become law. As the bill goes to the president, the $225,000 appropriation for the revenue cutter for the coast of Oregon and the $215,000 appropriation for a light tender at San Francisco, are eliminated; $600,000, instead of $700,000 appropriated for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition and $24,000 appropriated for a wharf and storehouse at Neahray, Washington.

Because the Senate has added $73,000,000 to the regular appropriation bills, not including the public buildings and grounds bill, Representative Burton, of Ohio, today called upon the House to revolt against "this extravagance and interference with the responsibilities and duties of the House." He was particularly riled because the Senate had won out in conference on the sundry civil appropriation bill, in its efforts to get a survey of the Galveston, Texas, harbor, and the authorization of the use of $10,000 to repair the levee between Flint creek and the Iowa river on the Mississippi.

Mr. Burton's outburst gave Mr. Sherley an opportunity to call attention to the announcement of the republican House leaders, that the republicans alone were responsible for legislation and would enact just what they pleased. Burton's speech resulted in more than a score of republicans voting against the report, but enough democrats broke from Williams' lead, to save it by a majority of 13.

An omnibus navigation bill was passed by the House agreeing to the conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill, that measure, carrying $112,000,000 appropriations, needs only the president's signature to become law.

THE METHODISTS.

To indorse the work of the Anti-Saloon League and local option or to hold to the slogan of "Total Prohibition or Nothing," caused hot fight over two reports from the committee on temperance in the Methodist general conference in session in Baltimore on Saturday. Feeling ran high, and one speaker was practically shouted down by those who did not agree with him. The debate was not concluded because of the arrival of the order of the day, the presentation of the fraternal delegates from the Methodist Episcopal Church South. The question was left open for settlement Monday.

Baltimore, Md., May 25.—Rev. Dr. Wm. A. Quayle, of Chicago, was elected bishop on the tenth ballot at the M. E. Conference today. There was no election on the eleventh ballot.

MAD DOG SCARE.

Considerable excitement was caused on King street, between Fairfax and Pitt, early yesterday afternoon, by the appearance of what was supposed to have been a mad dog. The canine rushed up and down the two squares, causing pedestrians to scamper to places of safety. One citizen who was attacked by the dog took refuge in a vestibule and wielded his hat as a weapon until it was almost destroyed. The animal caused a stampede among a number of persons who were sitting in front of stores in the neighborhood. Lieut. Battis and Officer Garvy subsequently arrived on the scene. The latter cast a net over the canine and the lieutenant shot it. During the past few weeks several dogs, believed to have been suffering from rabies, have appeared in different sections of the city. One of the cura bit children in the northern section of the city, while another attacked several other dogs in another quarter of the town. The dogs which were bitten by the mad cur are running at large and liable to develop hydrophobia. About a year ago Mayor Paff very properly started the dog cart on its rounds. It is high time another crusade was being made. In the Church of the Redemption, Locust Point, Baltimore, yesterday morning, Rev. W. A. Crawford-Frost preached on the subject "Dogs vs. Children," taking as his text Matt. xv., 26: "It is not meet to take the children's bread and to cast it to dogs." The minister called attention to the fact that there are many people in the world who have but little use for children, but who lavish all their affections upon dogs. They are careful to see that the useless curs are fed and kept fat and sleek while many children are suffering for the necessaries of life.

REGATTA.

In the regatta at Philadelphia on Saturday poor direction marked the second four-oared shell race, which the Arundel Club, of Baltimore, won from the University of Pennsylvania. Old Dominion, of Alexandria, was third. Arundel led all the way. They were in the centre of the river, the Red and Blue being on the east and the Virginia men on the west. Arundel was a length ahead at the three-quarters-mile point. Penn put on power, but steered poorly; then the Old Dominion men, who were two lengths behind, ran close into the east shore. Arundel, who were rowing nicely together, became slightly disconcerted as Penn closed in on them, and spurted across the river. Penn's men were close behind and also rowed in bad direction, but settled down within a few seconds. The Arundels, despite their dash across the river, managed to win, but narrowly averted a collision with a steamer at the finish. The crew of the Old Dominion Boat Club, was Charles D. Barratt, bow; Edward S. Fawcett, 2; Joseph Richardson, 3; James S. Douglas, stroke. The Old Dominion crew returned to Alexandria this morning. This crew, made up entirely of junior oarsmen, deserve much credit for their showing against the more experienced crews, and it is hoped that they will enter some of the regattas this season. They were only beaten a length by the University of Pennsylvania four, second place, and were always within striking distance of the winners being but two and a quarter lengths behind them at the finish. The winner, the Arundle four of Baltimore, smashed in the bow of their shell against the stake boat at the finish; the pace was so fast that two of their men collapsed and had to be lifted from the boat.

COLLISION.

A single motor car of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway bound for Arlington Junction, ran into the rear of a Washington, Arlington and Falls Church car at Columbia pike, on the Arlington branch of the W., A. and M. V. R. W. about two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Frederick Munch, motorman of the Mount Vernon car, had his left leg badly injured. A colored passenger, aboard the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church car, had his finger mashed. The motor car of the Mount Vernon car was badly damaged. There were no passengers aboard the Mount Vernon car, and but few in the Falls Church car. Both trains were proceeding at a reduced rate of speed. The Mount Vernon car was closely following the Falls Church car, when the latter came to a sudden stop at Columbia pike. Before Motorman Munch could get his brakes on the collision occurred. Motorman Munch was taken to his home on south Fairfax street, where he was attended by Dr. William M. Smith, the railway company's surgeon. His injuries are not of a serious nature, and he will probably be able to report for duty again in two or three weeks.

WEDDING.

Rev. Alexander Stuart Gibson, minister of the Episcopal churches at Middleburg and Aldie, and a son of Bishop Gibson, was married at Trinity Church, Arlington, to Miss Etta Hull, of that place, at 12 o'clock noon today, Bishop Gibson officiating. The groom's brother, Mr. Churchill Gibson, was best man. The bride was unattended. A number of relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present at the wedding. After a reception at the home of the bride, Rev. and Mrs. Gibson went on a trip and expect shortly to go to their home at Aldie.

BASEBALL.

The Virginia Stars baseball club will play the Cardinals on the old fair grounds tomorrow evening, May 26. Game called at 5:30 o'clock.

ORDINATION AND CONFIRMATION.

The impressive service of ordination was held yesterday morning in the chapel of the Theological Seminary near this city, when Bishop Gibson ordained three deacons to the priesthood. These were Rev. David H. Lewis, who has charge of the Episcopal Church in Goochland county; Rev. W. R. Mason, assistant to Archdeacon Neve at the Mountain Mission in Albemarle county, and Rev. L. D. Vaughan, of Essex county.

The candidates were presented by Rev. Professor Wallis, and all the professors joined in the laying on of hands with the bishop. The sermon was preached by Bishop Gibson and was a clear presentation of the stewardship of the Christian ministry. The deacons ordained to the priesthood yesterday will remain at their respective charges where they have done good work. There was a large congregation in which there were friends and relatives of those ordained.

In the afternoon Bishop Gibson visited St. John's Chapel, West End, and confirmed six persons, four of these being young ladies. The bishop made a short address appropriative to the service.

At night in the chapel of the Theological Seminary a class of twenty-four persons was confirmed, eighteen being boys from the Episcopal High School, the rest being ladies from Bailey's Cross Roads, Howardsville and in the vicinity of the 'Hill." Among the boys confirmed was the son of Dr. Berryman Green, formerly of this city. This was a most solemn and interesting service and the class was the largest confirmed at the Seminary for many years past.

Bishop Gibson expects to sail for England on the Mauretania on the 3rd of June next.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Confederate Memorial Day is being observed in this city today. Committees of Veterans and Sons of Veterans this morning visited the cemeteries and strewed flowers on the graves of the Confederate soldiers buried therein. Later the monument at the corner of Prince and Washington streets was decorated. At 4:30 o'clock this evening the members of Lee Camp and of M. D. Corse Camp, Sons of Veterans, will meet at Lee Camp Hall and headed by the Alexandria Drum Corps will after a short march proceed to the monument where the exercises will be held. These, as heretofore stated, will consist of a prayer by Rev. C. D. Bulla, songs by a choir led by Miss B. Rotchford, and an address by Capt. R E. Lee. After the exercises the procession will reform and march to Christ Church where the Confederate mound will be decorated and where "taps" will be sounded by a guard from the Alexandria Light Infantry.

The parade will form on Prince street right resting on Alfred and will march from Alfred to King, up King to Payne, countermarch to Fairfax, down Fairfax to Prince, up Prince to the monument.

KNOCKED DOWN BY A BICYCLE.

Among the cases before the Police Court this morning was that of a colored youth named Alex. Haley, who was charged with reckless running of a bicycle. The boy while on King street collided with a small white boy, knocking him down and ruining his clothes, as the child fell in some tar which was oozing from the vitrified brick roadway. Haley was dismissed upon paying damages.

THE COMING OPERA.

As an evidence of public approval, the tickets for the coming opera of Fatinitza are meeting with a sale which far exceeds the expectations of the management or the committee and it is highly gratifying to feel that Alexandria's people will be given an opportunity to witness one of the prettiest comic operas ever staged in America. Several well-known ladies and gentlemen, who have in the past led in dramatics and music and who have been closely identified with performances given by the city's leading musical organization, the Sharps and Flats, have expressed their highest approval of the undertaking and recommend the production to lovers of the drama and music. Attention is called to the advertisement in which the names of the principals are given.

A Snow Hurricane.

The buran, or snow hurricane of the Pamirs, is a meteorological phenomenon of great interest. Even in midsummer the temperature during a snow buran frequently falls to 14 degrees F., while in one winter it dropped to 45 degrees below zero at the end of January. The buran comes with startling suddenness, the atmosphere growing dark with whirling snowflakes where scarcely a minute before the sky was perfectly clear.

Spinning on the Common.

That historic bit of ground known to the world as Boston Common has been the background of many a strange and picturesque scene. Surely not one of the varied events which have been acted upon it presents a quainter picture than one which took place about 1750. Mr. Francis Drake describes the occurrence in his article in "The Memorial History of Boston" on "Life in Bostou In the Provincial Period."

In 1720 an attempt was made in Boston to encourage the art of spinning and to establish schools where the process could be taught to the poor. It was recommended that twenty spinning wheels should be provided by the town for the use of children sent from the almshouse and a premium allowed of £5 for the first piece of linen spun and woven.

In 1747 a society was organized for the encouragement of the industry, and the fourth anniversary was publicly celebrated.

"In the afternoon," says an old account, "300 young female spinsters, decently dressed, appeared on the common with their spinning wheels. The wheels were placed in three rows, a female at each wheel. Weavers also appeared in garments of their own weaving. There was an immense number of spectators."

The Size of Great Men.

The Iron Duke has always been a mystery. I have read that he was six feet four inches tall. I have read also that he was only five feet six inches. Historians tell us he was anywhere from five feet six inches to five feet eleven inches. There are some things seemingly very simple which it is impossible to establish. This is one of them. Historians are still guessing the height of Julius Caesar, the size of Hannibal's head, the weight of Alexander the Great and the general dimensions of Solomon. Why, we are not even sure of the stature of George Washington. It might be believed that Napoleon, Alexander the Great and Jay Gould were of the same size, three bumptious little chaps. And it is common belief that Charlemagne, Erling the Bold, Frederick the Great, Robert Bruce, Sir William Wallace, General Winfield Scott and Richard Coeur de Lion were all top notchers, "Old Fuss and Feathers," formed in the prodigality of nature, leading in girth and weight.—New York Press.

This Day and Time.

"Dis yer day an' time," said Brother Williams, "is too much fer me. Ef dar wuz a Joshua livin' who could make de sun stan' still he do it so he could save on de gas bill, an' ef Jonah wuz livin' now an' a whale didn't have any mo' sense than ter swaller him, he'd lan' dat whale high an' dry an' sell him ter de ile trust, an' ef Lot wuz gwine 'long wid his wife an' she wuz turned into a pillar er salt he'd bull' a fence roun' her an' 'lect hisse'f president er a salt trust! Hits de rushin'est, grab all age I ever wuz in. Dey not only rides de lightnin', but dey done staked off de stars, an' dey knows des how many hours a day de fireman in de sun works, an' dey is slick enough ter tie tin cans ter de tails of de comics what go blazin' roun' de sky! We is so wise on our own account dat wisdom itse'f looks foolish. Whar we'll fetch up I dunno. All I does know is dat we gwine fast enough ter make yo' head swim!"—Atlanta Constitution.

A Telephone Opiate.

The elder's wife was seriously ill, and the doctor advised rest and quiet. But the lady was very devoted to church work and worried herself into hysteria because she could not attend services and hear her favorite pastor preach.

"She must not leave the house," warned the doctor, "but you can easily arrange to have her hear the sermon by telephone."

The elder grasped the suggestion and made the necessary arrangements for transmitting the sermon into his wife's room.

At noon on the Sabbath the doctor called and asked, "How did it work?"

"Fine," declared the elder, rubbing his hands gleefully. "Ten minutes after the sermon began she fell sound asleep."—Philadelphia Ledger.

His Criticism.

Robert Louis Stevenson once took an eccentric acquaintance of his to hear Sir Charles Halle play the piano at St. James' hall, London. Sir Charles was a musician of the most correct and severe British type, though a German by birth. After the concert was over they walked as far as the Marble arch, neither having spoken. Arrived there, the friend stopped and delivered himself thus: "The manner of the elderly statesman at the piano was somewhat austere and chilling." And then they walked on.

Taking No Chances.

A farmer who took much pride in the looks of his fattening pigs once purchased a pair from a neighbor. Upon delivery at the usual age of eight weeks they seemed to him rather small.

Eying them dubiously, he remarked dryly, "Guess I had better keep the cat shut up for a few days."

A Hard Stunt.

Mamma—Good gracious, Georgie! What is the matter with Freddie Jones? Is the child having a fit? Georgie—No, mamma. You know Freddie stutters, and we bet he couldn't say "altitudinosity" before Bobbie ran twice around the block.—Puck.

Ponderous.

Evelyn—He's a very learned man. You wouldn't think so, would you? Natica—Oh, yes! I suspected it at once Evelyn—Indeed? Natica—Yes. He makes me so tired!—Illustrated Bits.
